Theta Sigma Phi Is State Service Head

Fraternity Plans New Bureau for Benefit of Women's Clubs.

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalistic fraternity, plans to start a source material service to women's clubs and other women's groups within the state. They are also extending the service to the different high schools in the state that have not access to large libraries. The main aim of the service is to give Montana history, though other material will be sent out.

There are many reports given by members of these different women's clubs throughout the state and it is the aim of Theta Sigma Phi to make it easier for the women to secure information for their topics through this new service opened. It opens the files of Montana history, which are in the possession of the State University, to any one in the state who is desirous of such historical material.

Letters to the different school principles and women's club presidents will be sent out in the near future telling them about the opportunity that will be opened in the school. A very nominal cost will be asked for the service.

Men Can Not Get Post Office Work

University men in general will not be employed in the Missoula post office this holiday season, according to information received by Dean Burly Miller from Frank Richardson, Missoula postmaster.

Instructions from the United States Postmaster-General require that local postmasters employ married men only and co-operate with local relief societies in solving unemployment conditions.

Next Issue of Alumnus Gets New Features

Kaimin History, Blackburn Interview, Will Appear In January.

Beginning a complete history of the Montana Kaimin and containing an exclusive interview with Quinn Blackburn in addition to several new features of interest to former students, the Montana Alumnus will make its appearance about the middle of January. Jess Camborn, editor, said yesterday.

Feature Stories.

From the first efforts toward publication of student comment and news until the present time, Wilfred Felhaber, night editor of the Helena office of the Associated Press and former student in Journalism here, has traced a history of the Kaimin that will be valuable and interesting, the editor said. The history will probably run for four or five issues.

An American student's impressions of Oxford, according to Kelly Skeels, Montana Rhodes scholar, will also be included in this issue of the Alumnus. New educational trends in eastern United States and a discussion of an article on education at the University, with its hopes and plans for the next ten years, will be one of the features of this issue.

Believing that fraternity and sorority news of the active chapters on the campus would be of interest to alumni, a section of campus gossip and fraternity news, furnished by students on the campus, has been included. These new features will become permanent, depending upon the response from the readers.

Letters from alumni abroad will be published verbatim, so far as possible, instead of including notes with the class news, as has been done before. The establishment of the foreign correspondence letter section may increase the size of the publication later on.

Quinn Blackburn has given an exclusive interview from the standpoint of an alumnus, regarding his trip to the South Pole with Byrd.

New Sections.

Another section which is new this issue will be the "Who's Who Among the Alums," which calls for a deal of research and will probably be very interesting to former students.

"The subscription campaign we have been carrying on has been very encouraging," Jess Camborn said yesterday, adding that this promises to be one of the big issues of Alumnus.

Phi Sigma Has Final Meeting On Wednesday

Joe Grove Resigns Position As Treasurer Because Of Graduation.

Phi Sigma, national biological society, held its last meeting of the fall quarter Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Natural Science building. Joe Grove, Glenwood, Minnesota, who has served the society as treasurer during the past quarter, has resigned his position due to the fact that he graduates at the end of the fall term. In his stead, Earl Young, Chatterbox, Wisconsin, has been elected to supervise the finances of the organization for the remainder of the school year.

During the course of the meeting, Joe Grove delivered a very interesting talk on a canoe trip which he, with Faye Coney and Charles O'Neill, took this summer. The boys started at Whitehall, following the course of the river down to Bismarck, North Dakota.

After the business of the meeting, refreshments were served before dismissal.

FAMOUS FORESTRY ECONOMY EXPERT WILL BECOME FACULTY MEMBER

Dr. C. A. Schenck En Route From Darmstadt, Germany, to Join School of Forestry Staff.

Dr. C. A. Schenck, pioneer in American forestry and an authority on forest economy, will arrive in Missoula January 2, where, for the third time, he will become a member of the faculty staff of the School of Forestry. Dr. Schenck, whose home is in Darmstadt, Hessa, Germany, sailed from Rotterdam, Holland, a week ago today. He is accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Von Baur, and her daughter.

First School of Forestry.

Dr. Schenck was a member of the first School of Forestry in this country, the Baltimore school. This was on the George Vanderbilt estate, out of Asheville, North Carolina. Dr. Schenck, as manager of the estate, taught a considerable number of students the principles of forestry as they were applied by himself on the estate. The Vanderbilt grounds at this place were composed of between 50,000 and 60,000 acres. The school was distinguished by the fact that a great part of the teaching was done in the field and consisted of practical work. A great many men prominent in the field of forestry in this country were students at this school. Smith Riley, for a time district forester of Region, Number Two, at Denver, and George Cecil, once filling the same position in Region Number Six, at Portland, were students at Baltimore.

Schenck's Books.

Dr. Schenck has just recently completed work on his latest book, "American Trees Fit for European Woods." Work on this book prevented his being at the Montana School of Forestry this past quarter. Some of his other works are: Forest Mensuration; Baltimore Lectures on Silviculture, 1907; Forest Management, 1907; Forest Protection, 1909; Forest Finance, 1909; Forest Policy (economics), 1910; Forest Utilization, 1911; American Silviculture, 1912; Forest Utilization in Europe, 1924.

During the coming quarter, Dr. Schenck will have charge of Professor F. G. Clark's classes in Forestry Economics. He will also do some lecturing on modern European history in the history department.

A Founder of Forestry.

Dr. Schenck is the most widely-known forester in the world, largely due to his extensive travels. He and three other men, Roth, Fernow and Pinchot, are known as the founders of forestry in America. He received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Glessen, Germany, also studying at the University of Heidelberg. He first came to America in 1894.

SEASON'S GREETINGS.

"I am glad to express through the Kaimin the Season's Greetings and Good Will to each individual of the student body. To live collectively with individual success and happiness has been mankind's most difficult problem. Christmas celebrates the birth of the One who has given us the only solution."

PRESIDENT C. H. CLAPP.

Faculty Members Will Go to Meet At End of Month

Spaulding and Ramskill Read Papers at Spokane.

University of Montana faculty members will play an important part at the annual convention of the Northern Scientific Association in Spokane December 29 and 30.

In the general session, at which all sections are together, the morning of the first day, Dean T. C. Spaulding of the School of Forestry will read the principal paper of the convention.

After the first general session, the convention will be divided up into groups, such as the biology, physics, chemistry and forestry groups. At a meeting of the latter division, Professor J. H. Ramskill, also of the School of Forestry faculty, will read a paper. His topic will be "Some Physical and Chemical Reactions Occurring in Wood During the Seasoning Process."

Among others attending this convention will be Dr. C. W. Waters, who will give a paper entitled "Botany of Flathead Lake."

MASQUER TRYOUTS.

Every eligible student who would like a part in any of the Masquers' winter quarter plays report at the Little Theater. Tryouts will be given today and Monday and Tuesday afternoons of examination week or else a special appointment can be made.

Previous experience is not necessary. No preparation is necessary. Whether or not you have tried out before, drop in again. So many have tried out in the past that it is difficult to remember everyone who is available and I am sure that there is more promising talent than I have been able to use so far.

WILLIAM ANGUS.

Grades Will Be Out December 29

Grades for the autumn quarter will be released on Monday, December 29, and students who are in Missoula may call for their handbooks at that time. In order that students who go home for Christmas may also know their grades, the parents' grade slips will be sent out during the vacation. Students are asked to make sure that all fines are paid before leaving in order that all slips may be mailed. They are also requested to call for their handbooks as soon as possible after their return in order that the Registrar's office may not have the responsibility for them.

Deiss Goes on Vacation Trip Through East

Will Go to Ann Arbor, Then To Toronto, Where He Will Present Papers.

Comparative studies of some of the Cambrian trilobites from the continental divide area of Montana will be made in Ann Arbor by Dr. C. F. Deiss of the Geology department. Dr. Deiss leaves December 13.

He is also packing for shipment to Ann Arbor a number of the fossils which he expects to work on during the next five years, a continuation of the paleontologic work that he did with the Michigan survey before coming to Montana. While in Ann Arbor, Dr. Deiss will work on a series of microscopic fossils there.

From Ann Arbor, he will fly to Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, and look over a number of fossils there, continuing then to Toronto, where the Geological Society of America meets December 29, 30 and 31. He is presenting a paper before that Society on the stratigraphy of the Belt rocks in Montana, "Correlation of Montana Algonkian Formations," of which President Clapp is the co-author.

Dr. Deiss will also present before the Paleontological Society of America, meeting at the same time, a preliminary announcement concerning the new trilobite fauna collected at Pentagon mountain on the Continental Divide 60 miles south of Glacier Park. He plans to return to Missoula January 3 or 4.

FACULTY MEETS TO DISCUSS NEW GRADE SYSTEM

Credits, Curriculum, Student Interest Are Considered In Session.

Possibilities of doing away with the grade-point and credit system of grading, plans for remodeling the curriculum and challenging more student interest were discussed at the faculty meeting Tuesday evening. It is hoped in some manner, that the evil of credit hunting can be done away with.

President's Talk.

"I have been gratified by the progress that has been made by the State University during the last ten years. It has accomplished in a large measure many of the objectives that it set out to attain. I think this has been accomplished in no small degree by the rather strict standards and accounting methods we have used in dealing with the students; but it seems to me the time has come when we should set up further objectives to keep on going ahead, and it is probably time to do it by some other method than by the grade point and credit method we have used during the last ten years," President Clapp said.

Faculty Committees.

Standing committees were appointed as follows: Absence, Jesse, Miller, Sedman, LeClair, Registrar; Admission and Graduation, Phillips, chairman of department concerned, Registrar. When enlarged for administrative action, Jesse, Ames, Miller and Sedman will act with the regular committee.

Advisers, Jesse, Adams, Ames, Asendorf, Bateman, Bennett, Bischoff, Coleman, Deiss, Eminger, Fitzgerald, Howard, Kast, Larsen, Mason, Merrill, Platt, Sanford, Toole, F. B. Campus Development, Elrod, Spaulding, Waters and Swearingin; Certified Public Accountancy, Sanford, Toole and Speer; Curriculum, the President, Deans, Chairmen of Departments, Registrar, professors and associate professors. The Curriculum committee has been considerably enlarged over the old committee.

Hi-Jinx Trials Show Wealth Of Material

Several Additions, Changes Made in Committee Line-ups.

A wealth of talent was revealed at the Hi-Jinx try-outs which were held Tuesday night at Main hall, according to Manager Miriam Barnhill. Over 100 people turned out, including men and women with exceptional musical comedy ability.

"We were exceptionally gratified with the group. Possibilities for good choruses as well as individual talent were discovered," said Miriam Barnhill.

Several additions and changes have been made in the committees. Dorothy Briggs has been appointed chairman of the production committee to take the place of Marion Hobbs who was forced to resign because of lack of time. Rhea Traver filled the vacant place left by the resignation.

Evelyn Blaeser was added to the property committee and Eleanor Arnold was appointed to the costume committee. Helen Spencer is a new member on the dancing committee.

MONTANA MUSINGS

ONCE upon a time there were some babes lost in the woods, they were hopelessly lost, suddenly they were overwhelmed by a terrible ogre. Oh, well, what's the use of telling a fairy story at a time like this. It's nothing but stark, impressive reality that will be stalking the gymnasium next week. Bits of driftwood, pitiful figures drowned in an inundation of questions and queries regarding the sublime and the profound. From the archaic to the visionary is the range and the only problem left is to find the proper niche.

FOR the benefit of the young and untried a word of stimulation is perhaps the best. When the last dark moment comes and you crowd through the door, jammed in a mob of happy, eager students, be sure your fountain pen is filled. Once inside appear at your best, nonchalant, vivacious, cringing, egotistical or vacant, the style which suits your personality best is the one to adopt. It's the calm, cool cucumber that sells the best and after all it's the resale of the quarterly information that goes on display next week. But above all remember that you're not Einstein and that you can't solve the riddle of the universe and after all, the grade curve will probably take care of you anyway.

WITHIN the next week the annual Christmas exodus of the University will commence. Students will radiate from Missoula into all parts of the state and some even across its borders. To the freshmen the Christmas vacation usually seems like a gift from heaven. After three months of University life and scholastic subjection coupled with a feeling of loneliness for home, the Christmas period is doubly appreciated. The main thing is to forget the nightmare, if you take it that way, of examinations and thoroughly enjoy your stay at home.

THIS doesn't mean that the student on his return to his home town should adopt the swagger of sophistication or the front of fraternalism. Perhaps a quarter or even a year or two at the University is an accomplishment but there is no need to plaster the trademark all over the billboard. Nor is it a collegiate necessity to hang a pledge pin or mildly burn the town up just to show them the school spirit that you have inherited. They are platitudes that are usually disregarded, but omens to a silent populace.

AS a last minute reminder—when the old head is a potpourri of quotations, evasions, formulas and dates forget them for a minute and soothe the classic brow by attending the concert that the Women's Glee club is giving in Main hall. It will be the pause that refreshes to hear these girls under the direction of Dean DeLoss Smith sing a program of Christmas music in the auditorium at 4 o'clock. Just imagine the relief to be able to sink back in the seat and relax and forget absolutely that you have had to burn the midnight oil both night and day lately. Just let yourself go and enjoy an afternoon of Christmas music.

WISHING you all a Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.

WINTER DEBATE SCHEDULE BRINGS OUTSIDE TEAMS TO UNIVERSITY

Teams Will Be Chosen for Women's Teams and Varsity With Trip Planned if Tentative Arrangements Are Adequate.

Debate schedule next quarter will probably bring several outside teams here, and may include a long tour for the varsity debaters. Teams have not been chosen yet but anyone interested and eligible is urged to see Professor Darrell Parker, debate coach, before the holidays.

Team Organization.

Early next quarter varsity team, freshman women's team, sophomore women's team, and varsity women's team will be chosen. Freshman and sophomore women's teams will meet in a debate next month. Women's varsity team will debate the State Normal school and the Eastern Montana Normal school on the question, Resolved: That all the nations should adopt a policy of free trade.

Washington State College will send a team to meet the varsity team here early in February on the question, Resolved: That the intervention of the federal government in the wheat situation through the Agricultural Marketing Act has been a detriment to the farmer.

Montana will send a team to Idaho and to Washington State college about the same time, probably on the same subject. A dual debate has been arranged with Mt. St. Charles. Each school will send a team to the other school and the debates will be held at the same time. Attempts are being made to arrange a debate with Inter-mountain Union college while the team is in Helena.

Debate Trip Planned.

Plans are being made for a debate trip later in the year, although such arrangements must be tentative, depending upon the adequacy of the debate fund.

The debate tour would include meetings with the University of British Columbia, the University of Washington, Reed College at Portland, Oregon State College, and the Oregon State university.

... pipe smokers agree with NAVY • HARVARD WASHINGTON COLGATE

FROM the foothills to the bay the curling tendrils of smoke from pipes loaded with Edgeworth rise to meet the sunset fire.

In the Stadium before the big games... watching spring football practice... in the great hall of Encina... over on the Row and up on the Hill... men of Stanford give Edgeworth the preference over all other tobacco brands.

College men everywhere are turning to Edgeworth! In 42 out of 54 of the leading colleges and universities Edgeworth is the favorite pipe tobacco.

To win the vote of so many college men a tobacco must be good. If you've never tried Edgeworth, begin today! The pocket tin is only 15¢. Or, for generous free sample, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d Street, Richmond, Va.

Oh wind, if winter comes—can exams be far behind? And Monday morning is the beginning of the final reckoning.

All paths shall terminate at the gym for faithful (and not so faithful) students of the University of Montana.

But a strange sight awaits those who have never before visited here. They are not going to see a basketball game, nor indulge in mass floor work. No. They shall see "row on row" of seats, shining in their new found grandeur. The light sifting through the skylight, intensifies their outlines.

To the new candidate who enters the double doors for the first time into this coliseum, all appears austere and forbodes evil. He is like the Roman gladiator who must kill the lions, only this is to be a "battle of wits."

He marches past the row of judges who stand beside their huge supply of bluebooks; his enemy.

Securing a firm hold on the enemy and his allies, the mimeographed questions, this modern gladiator glides into the arena. His heart pumps mightily, and he tries to be calm. There is no cheering, no applause, nothing. The chairs become a blur, and appear as a field of ripened grain. He sinks into the one nearest him and awaits, expectantly.

The referee enters the arena and in a loud, clear voice, gives instructions

Seniors Swamp the Lower Classes in Tournament Monday to Wednesday

Freshmen Are Victorious Monday Night, But Sophomores And Juniors Go Under the Following Days.

Swamping the other three classes by decisive scores, the seniors won the interclass basketball title in the tournament completed Wednesday. After being held down by the frosh Monday night, the fourth year men came back Tuesday and Wednesday to run up large totals against the sophomores and juniors. In the later games, the victors were never headed and Lewis, Rohlfss, and Stocking piled up most of the senior points.

Senior-Sophomore Contest.
Against the sophomores Tuesday night, the seniors started fast and gained a safe margin in the first period and were leading 19-9 at the half. Lewis slipped in five baskets in the opening half and then got hot during the second half to run his total for the game to 12. He also added a free throw to make him 25 points for high scoring honors. Rohlfss also got hot in the second period to make five baskets. Larimer almost beat the sophomores in the running in the second period by ringing the bell five times and adding a free throw. Andrews got four baskets and a free throw in the sophomores' last half rally but the accurate shooting of the older men gained them a 50-39 victory.

Seniors 49, Juniors 30.
The seniors had little trouble downing the juniors, 49-30, Wednesday night. Gaining a lead of 24-7 at the half, the seniors kept pace with their rivals in the second period and Lewis was again high man with 17 points. Logan and Carey did most of the scoring for the losers with 11 points apiece. This victory kept the senior slate clean and gave them the title. Those who played with the title winners in their three games were Lewis and Rohlfss, forwards; Stocking, center; Lockwood, Doherty, Rathert and Thrallkill, guards.

Frosh Win.
Tuesday night the frosh sprung a last half rally on the juniors and won the most thrilling contest of the tournament. Trailing 19-13 at the end of the half, the Cubs quickly tied the count at the beginning of the second molety and although the juniors gained the lead several times later, they could not hold it and the Cubs won, 32-31. With only a minute to play and the Cubs holding a one-point lead, Freebourn slipped in a basket that finally won the game as Wood scored a basket for the juniors as the gun sounded. Kaseltitz led the victors with 10 points while Logan duplicated his score to lead the juniors.

STUDENTS FROM OUTSIDE STATE PLAN HOLIDAYS

Foresters Will Take Trips to Homes in Eastern Cities.

Several members of the School of Forestry whose homes are in distant parts of the United States are planning on leaving for the Christmas holidays. In many cases these men have not visited their homes since beginning school at Montana, as they secure work with the government in the summer and the lack of time at Christmas prevents making the trips.

Marion McCarty will leave next Friday for Wilkesburg, Pennsylvania. Sheffield Bramwell will leave the same day for Lincoln, Illinois. Carter Quinn is planning on going to his home at Rahway, New Jersey. Morris Running and Oliver Hoyer will leave for Two Harbors and Chisholm, Minnesota. Lee Merrill will spend the holidays in California. Several students are also planning on driving through to their homes in California.

Hugh Redding, a senior in the School of Forestry, will leave next week for his home in Millboro, North Carolina, to spend the holidays. For the past 10 years, Redding has been employed every summer with the fire protection organization of the United States Forest Service, and because of this, has not seen his home in that time.

On his return to school, Redding plans on stopping at Asheville, North Carolina, where he will visit the Pisgah National Forest. Here he will gather data for a thesis he is preparing on the "Use of Plows in Fire Line Construction." He will return to school for the beginning of the winter quarter.

Lewon and Krause Will Box Tonight

University Men Will Uphold Grizzly Standards.

When the gong rings for the first bout of the Garden City smoker tonight at 8:15 in Loyola gym, the seats around the ring will be divided about equally among town fans and students. Interest in three of the four main fights of the evening is centered on contests between campus and Missoula battlers.

Eddie Krause, a welterweight, Reuben Lewon, a lightweight, and Syd Frasier, a light-heavy, are the University boys who are out to maintain the high standards set by Grizzly pugilists in former years. Only one University boxer has lost downtown in recent times, and that was on decision which was doubtful to say the least.

Campus friends of Krause and Lewon are reported to be raising money to cover a wager offered by Missoula fans. Krause meets a tall, rangy mauler who will outweigh him twelve pounds, and Lewon will tangle with a clever, experienced boy in Eddie Coyle. Frasier is favored to win over Cyclone Smith.

All women's gym clothes must be removed from the gymnasium lockers by Friday night, December 12. If they are not removed by then, owners will have to pay to have them returned to them.

Notice

Harry Adams, director of intramural athletics, has announced that the inter-church basketball league will be started early in the winter quarter and urges all teams to get organized at once. Managers should be selected and entries reported to Harry Adams as he wants to make up the schedule.

There will be a meeting of the Newman club Sunday morning following 9 o'clock mass at St. Anthony's church.

Faculty volleyball practice will be held Monday evening in the women's gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock.

During the vacation period the women's gymnasium will be open to volleyball teams Monday and Thursday evenings and any teams who desire to enter tournament play during the next quarter are requested to see Jesse W. Bunch. It is expected that the faculty, the Filipino group and the Missoula preachers will compete.
